

1110 New York Ave. ▲ Alamogordo, New Mexico 88310

June 17, 2015

To Whom it may concern:

Early in 2015 White Sands Construction of Alamogordo, New Mexico began renovation and construction services for the Flickinger Center for Performing Arts. In 2014 we had purchased an old building adjacent to the theater at 1106 New York Avenue. The building needed to be completely gutted internally and remolded from plumbing to roof and outer walls.

White Sands Construction owners Dennis and Nell Crimmons were very professional in all dealings surrounding the project. Catlin Curry, who was planning and construction supervisor was attentive to our needs and worked closely with us to keep the project on schedule. There were numerous difficult challenges with the old building. Catlin assisted us to provide subcontractors who would work within our budget whenever possible. The end result is a beautiful facility, Patron's Hall and Heritage Gallery, that will serve our local community well into the future.

I would recommend White Sands Construction for any commercial project of this type. You can contact me if you need photos or more details.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Teresa Ham".

Teresa Ham

Board of Directors for Flickinger Center for Performing Arts