Hello Mrs. Crimmins,

Greetings to you again from Cottonwood Christian Fellowship...

I don't need a thing; I just want to thank you. I see your picture in the paper once more for doing something gracious in the community, participating in New Mexico Gas Company's effort to revive relief for some of those who are more needy in our community. I'm sure you have a copy, but I have enclosed what I took from the Alamogordo Daily News.

The generosity of White Sands Construction is a great blessing to others in this community, and I just want to commend you for sharing in such a gracious way with others. I've always deeply admired business leaders who give back to the community. There is a law written in the fabric of the universe that those who bless others find themselves blessed. I trust that will be as true for you as it has been for others. Thank you for setting a great example.

In Jesus' name,
